

JERRY BARLOW - Celtic Guitar

Acclaimed Celtic fingerstyle guitarist Jerry Barlow is a warm accessible performer and storyteller. His repertoire is a synthesis of his own Celtic inspired compositions and the traditional music of the British Isles. His music has the power to transport the listener across time and space on an imaginary journey to a rustic Irish fishing village, the misty Scottish Highlands, or an ancient English forest.

In concert, Jerry brings traditional Celtic tunes alive by sharing the history, humor and legends behind the music. The title track from his CD, BRING DOWN THE STORM, has won the prestigious Indie award for "Best Songs of 2006." Songs from his first CD, KEEPSAKE, are played on National Public Radio and were included in a PBS documentary Song of Our Children. Songs from Bring Down the Storm are heard in the newly released documentary Learn More About Climate from Landlocked Films and the University of Colorado. Jerry has been featured in Fingerstyle Guitar magazine.

He has performed for the University of Denver's Lamont School of Music in the Gates Auditorium, High Plains Public Radio's Living Room Concert Series, the Performing Arts Festival at the Denver Center for Performing Arts, Swallow Hill Music Association in Denver, and the Main Stage at the Cherry Creek Arts Festival.

Jerry regularly performs at theaters, concert halls, and libraries throughout the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Region. His expressive arrangements have been described as music to soothe the soul, warm the heart and lift the spirit.
